LARGE DIVIDEND OF INSURANCE.

The Piedmont Life Insurance Company, of Virginia, has

on its Life Policies, which have paid two annual premiums, and therefore is available on said policies at next renewal to absorb same, or reduce cash payment.

The dividend could have safely been larger, but with the

The company is now only in the eighteenth month of its active operation, yet

CAROLINA TIMES.

R. P. WARING, Editor.

CHARLOTTE.

Thursday, September 2, 1869.

The present rate of interest is so high as to cramp every branch of business, and to retard, in a very great degree, the development of our varied resources and the growth of our city. This high rate is owing, mainly, to the uncertain and disastrous legislation which Radicalism has inflicted upon the State. The want of confidence is felt everywhere, and many think the only safe place to put their money is the Bank. These institutions, though necessary in all commercial communities have lately been managed to the injury of all those who are not strictly capitalists or money lenders. It is true there is a great deal of money in the country, but these corporations step in and out-bid private parties and are thus enabled so to absorb it as to give them the monopoly. This thing will not last much longer. The time is rapidly approaching when such will be the abundance of the circulating medium that it cannot be controlled or directed into any particular channels. With the ingathering and sale of the present crops, a vast amount of money will be placed in the hands of the farmers, more than they will need to carry on their business, so it will be thrown upon the market, and then the rate of interest will be greatly reduced. The effect upon this city and county will be marvelous. New life and activity will be infused into every avocation and enterprises will spring up, that will add to our solid prosperity, and then we will grow in earnest.

The country is quietly settling, and confidence in the stability of affairs gradually being restored so we look forward to the future more hopefully than at any time since the war. Financially, our people have recovered wonderfully, and considering the adverse Legislation, both State and National, by both friend and foe, it is surprising what recuperative energy they have displayed. Let us stand together, encourage one another, patronize home industry, build up home institutions, and soon our country will become one of the greatest on the face of the earth.

THE GETTYSBURG AFFAIR.

This is acknowledged by northern papers, says the Richmond Dispatch, to have been a failure, as it really was. The sentiments of General Lee seem to be rapidly gaining ground, and we see it boldly proclaimed that it would be much better (like the Greeks) to plow up the battle-fields of civil strife, that there should be no monuments left to tell of national discord. There were a good many Federal generals and soldiers present at Gettysburg, but they were all of the less distinguished order—"shallow water" men, and mostly of political aspirations.

Two agencies were at work to get up this Gettysburg affair—one, party, and the other, pecuniary. The well-known Gettysburg Katalysine Water Company stirred the affair with indomitable energy. They had a great deal to do with the telegrams which were designed to bring about what they told would happen. Everybody on both sides was to be there, and hardly anybody was there.

We observe that a Philadelphia paper, after acknowledging the absence of men of the Federal army who were necessary to give dignity and potency to the movement, is so unkind as to suggest that the southern officers would "probably rather unite with the Union survivors of Bull Run, or of Chancellorsville, on the scenes of those terrible disasters, than with the victors of Gettysburg;" and we might simply reply, the Union survivors "had rather not." But why the fling? There has been no such desire expressed here on the part of the South, and surely it ought not to be condemned on the fancies of a newspaper editor.

No, the South wants peace. It is not desirous of perpetuating passions and painful recollections. It may be answered, Because it is beaten. Let the answerers beware, and prefer to build a golden bridge for a retreating foe rather than perpetuate his resentments by insult.

There was much grumbling at the bounce of distinguished officers; but gravelled gentlemen had a plenty of Katalysine water, which is pronounced a cure for the complaint!

For the Times.

MR. EDITOR:—But yesterday we were called upon to pay the last tribute of respect to the remains of one in no ordinary degree, useful and beloved. Why one so beloved, so respected, and so useful should be removed, when to all human view, in the midst of his usefulness, is one of those mysterious dispensations of a wise Providence, which short-sighted man can neither fathom nor explain. It becomes us to be thankful to the Giver of all good that He raises up wise and good men among us; that he suffers them to remain, until by their example they excite, and by their instructions prepare others to walk in their steps.

In the death of our distinguished fellow citizen, James Osborne, we may well say, Death who ever loves a shining mark has struck from our hemisphere a luminary of no ordinary lustre, though verging to his western horizon. For ever silent and still that familiar voice, the rich intonations of which, won the ear, the understanding and the heart, and that heart which once throbbed with grateful emotions is now silent and still in the tomb.

May He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, may He who hushed to stillness and composure the boisterous waves of the briny deep, may He, who I think I see in yonder lightning's flash as it fringes the storms of earth below, and who alone can touch the heart with the magnet of His love, keep him until that day when He shall come to make up His jewels, and then may be hear that welcome plaudit, "well done thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of thy love." MARCUS.

INTERESTING QUESTION IN BANKING.—Much interest will be felt among bankers in the decision of the case of the Corn Exchange Bank against the Chatham National Bank, which was commenced by a preliminary injunction granted by Judge Barnard yesterday, against the latter bank at the suit of the former. The facts of the case are these: The Corn Exchange Bank has been in the habit of certifying the checks of Hart & Hale, of No. 52 Wall street, to a limited amount beyond their balance, the deficit being made good daily. On Thursday Mr. Julius L. Hart filled up a check for $13,000 in favor of George S. Hart & Co. (of which firm his brother is head), had it certified, and transferred it to the last named firm, who deposited it in the Chatham National Bank. In due course of business it came through the clearing house to the Corn Exchange Bank, who declined receiving it in the absence of Mr. Hart, who had been taken ill in the mean time and had gone home. The injunction was asked to impound the $13,000 which lies at the Chatham National Bank. The questions involved excite great interest among bank officers.—New York Commercial Advertiser of Saturday.

REMARKABLE EXPRESSION.—Hon. Alex. Little, on his death bed, when his family had assembled around his couch to bid him farewell, said that he "had nothing to bequeath but good will to all men, and that he could even forgive the Radicals for their rascallity, in bringing ruin upon the country."

These were his exact words as related to us by his son. These are the dying expressions of a great man, who had calmly weighed all the circumstances attending a nation's ruin, a man too, who was mild, conciliatory, and forbearing, almost to a fault in his views of men and measures. A man who was so strong in his Union proclivities, and adherence to the "old flag," as to be able to take the oath that he had done nothing to "aid or abet" in the Rebellion. What a terrible rebuke to those who have sold their "birth right for a mess of pottage,"—their native, oppressed southland for a little gain.

Wadesboro' Argus.

A MISTAKE.—Mr. Samuel Blossom of this city made quite a serious mistake, Saturday afternoon, in the "dosing" of two sick animals—a mule and a colt. He intended to give them "ox-vomit," but administered to each arsenic. The effect was not instantaneous; but on the next day the colt died, and yesterday the mule breathed its last. The two were valued at three hundred and fifty dollars.

An extensive gang of horse-thieves and pickpockets has been unearthed by the detectives, through the arrest of several of the gang in Vincinnes and Washington, Indiana, one of whom turned State's evidence. The organization extends from Sedalia, Mo., via Mitchell and Seymour, Ind., to a town in Kentucky, members of the gang being stationed in all the large cities along the route.

STATE NEWS.

DIED.—Col. Geo. F. Whitfield, an esteemed and enterprising citizen of Lenoir county, died at his residence at La Grange on Saturday last. His funeral took place on yesterday.

Messenger.

PENITENTIARY.—A force of nearly 100 men were put to work yesterday upon the stockade around the penitentiary grounds. They will be kept busy until the stockade and buildings are ready for the reception of prisoners.—Standard.

Two of our young Goldsborians, Mr. E. B. Coelet and Mr. C. S. Wooten, both promising young lawyers, left for Omaha, the "great money city," on Thursday last. We wish them success but think they had better stayed at home.—News.

Wilson T. Morton, the thief who was elected a Magistrate in Columbia township and subsequently arraigned on charges of larceny, was brought to the city Sunday morning and placed in jail. Yesterday he was bailed out in the sum of $200 by Geo. Z. French, white carpet-bagger, and Anthony Howe, a colored Radical fanatic who with French rejoices in being one of the Aldermen of this thus degraded city.—Wil. Journal.

The Standard in last Saturday's issue, in referring to the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Eastern Division of the Western North Carolina Railroad Company, with an air of triumph, calls attention to the fact that Ex-Gov. Vance and Judge Merrimon were excluded from the new Board of Directors, and it attributes this gratifying result to the action of Gov. Holden. We have no doubt the Gov. did all he could to accomplish that end, and that the whole programme for the election of the Board of Directors was pre arranged and with a view to the exclusion of Vance and Merrimon from the Board. These gentlemen were in the way of Radical frauds and speculation and hence their exclusion. If rumor be correct, even the Standard would blush to tell the means by which the Governor and other interested parties brought about a result so desirable to them. We take it Messrs. Vance and Merrimon were not excluded on political grounds, for in their stead, two or three straight out, bloody, original secessionists were elected.—But, perhaps, these gentlemen have gone to the Radicals. We would not be surprised if they had. The recruits to the Radicals are all from the bloody secessionists.—Ral. Sentinel.

MARL.—The farmers of Wilson and adjoining counties have paid greater attention to marl digging this season, than has ever been known before; and the dry weather has been peculiarly favorable for such operations. We are told that in many of the new pits that have been opened, rich deposits have been found, abounding in phosphates. The discovery of marl, in large quantities of superior quality, is no new thing in this county; yet our most observant farmers do not seem to have comprehended the extent of the deposits, or the practicability of bringing them into general use. The experience of this season, however, convinces all that the supply is not only sufficient, but inexhaustible, and that it is very easily obtained.

The deposits of marl in this county are also peculiarly valuable for the fossils they contain; which are the sole remaining proofs of the existence of animals, some of which are now unknown. The whale, the shark, among fish—the mastodon, (a gigantic elephant,) the horse, the hog—are among the animals known to have existed here. It is well worth our while to collect these for preservation. It is proposed to make a collection of these for the county, giving the duplicates to Prof. Kerr, for the State Museum. Farmers of adjoining counties are also requested to send what they may find in their marl pits.—Plaindealer.

BURGLAR CAUGHT IN THE ACT AND KILLED.—About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Cain Isterrier, a person who has recently chosen this city for his future home, heard a noise of some one attempting to force an entrance into the lower story of his residence on Queen street. Softly creeping down stairs he saw the burglar cutting a hole in the door leading to his pantry. Without a moment's hesitation, and before the scoundrel could effect an escape, Cain sprang upon him and seized him with a powerful grip by the back of the neck. The burglar made a desperate effort to escape and in the struggle succeeded in inflicting a slight flesh wound on the neck of his captor, attempting to commit murder rather than be captured. Cain proved too much for him and in a very short time succeeded in choking him to death. The struggle was short and noiseless, and Cain thinking others of the gang might be near watched for them until morning, none made their appearance, however, and if there were any accomplices they made good their escape.

When daylight appeared an examination revealed the fact that the dead robber was none other than R. O. Dent, a notorious thief whom our police and many of our citizens have long been watching with suspicion. So secret have been his movements that nothing could be directly proved against him and he has always hitherto escaped detection and arrest.

His crimes have at last met with merited punishment. The coroner was summoned but it was so manifest that Dent had met his death in the act of forcing an entrance into a dwelling, that no inquest was deemed necessary. Too much credit cannot be given to Cain for his prompt and decisive conduct in this affair. If one or two more burglars meet with the same fate we shall have fewer instances of house-breaking to record. Although we are law abiding citizens we believe summary punishment to be the best in such cases.—Newbern Times.

Chinese Servants.

The New York Journal of Commerce publishes a communication from, it says, a gentleman in very high standing in California, describing the Chinese exactly as they are, in every variety of service in that State. The editor adds "he cannot be accused of desiring to revive the slave trade, and has no political ends to serve, although he is a native of New England, one who served with distinguished credit in the late war, and is an ardent Republican."

[Extracts from the Letter.]

The flood tide of the Pacific scarce breaks upon our shore with a more copious fullness than this insurging tide of Chinese immigration. We have already among us from sixty to eighty thousand "Celestials." Every monthly steamer of the plendid Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s line brings over from Hong Kong from one thousand to twelve hundred recruits for this great army. They are not all humble laborers, though of course most of them have no other capital than that of their hands. Still, there are not a few who come with means to engage in trades and manufactures; and of late in every public civic festival, especially on every commercial fete-day, the Chinese merchants of San Francisco have an honorable place among our men of large adventure and sagacious enterprise.

Perhaps the greatest and most pleasant revolution under this new style of "help" is in our domestic life. Almost without exception the families who have made the experiment of their service have come to regard it as great and blessed relief in the matter of housekeeping. I have had this service for many months in my home, and would not go back to the old system of Irish service for any price. The new servants are neat, cheerful, skillful, careful, and economical. They put on no airs. They stipulate no privileges. They entertain no company. They look sharp after all the "odds and ends." They are satisfied with a very humble compensation for themselves. They make no complaint of "large washings," or "much company," or "sweeping days," or irregularities in the family," such as many of us have heard for years. They take hold of the tasks of each day, no matter how heavy, with the same uncomplaining cheerfulness, and carry them patiently through to their consummation with a quiet acquiescence which is most admirable. They never "answer back" to your instructions and exhortations except with the simple, hearty "all right," which assures you that they comprehend and will do what is told them. The unaccountable leaks that in the old system have drained off so many family stores, bringing the tea box, the sugar barrel, the butter firkin and the lard pot low with such marvelous celerity, seem strangely to have ceased. Any new service beyond their experience, when once shown, they achieve with an imitative dexterity that makes it a pleasure to teach them.

Of course, it is not quite easy at first to communicate with them. But they soon acquire English enough for all practical purposes. The technicalities of receiving when the door-bell rings, and rendering the responses of "not at home," or "walk in," are easily mastered by them. And to all the advantages now suggested, there is scarcely a "per contra" of discount to be taken into the estimate.

Let them come, therefore, we say, no matter in what numbers. Let them spread all through the vast interior. Let them assume our kitchen regime. Let them occupy all fields of labor.

Somewhat slowly but surely they become Americanized. They are eager to learn our language. With that they learn our ideas, our social economies, our religion.

As citizens these Chinese are orderly, quiet and well behaved. There is very little call for the interference of the police in their daily life. As laborers, however employed they give universal and unqalified satisfaction. They are diligent at their toil, quick to learn at new tasks, faithful in obeying orders, nimble, patient and honest. The iron track bent over the Sierras is a national monument to their skill and persistence. In every harvest field and fruit orchard and small garden they are preferred by those who have tried them to all other "hands." I have left them by the week together, without any supervision, on my fruit ranches, to gather, box and send to market, without ever having occasion to find fault with their intelligence, industry or integrity. The vast and growing agricultural wealth on our valleys and in our plains is more and more to be wrought and harvested by their labor.

His Royal Highness, Prince Arthur, has notified Mayor Hall, of New York, that he will visit that city some time during the ensuing fall.

The Atlanta (Ga.) New Era tells us an astounding story of a gentleman in that city "who experienced the rare delight of standing within the colors of the rainbow. He could," it says, "move his hands about in them, and enjoyed a very close inspection of the beautiful iris." Had the New Era only added that he was enabled to walk around the rainbow and to view it from all sides, its story would have been complete.—New York Times.

TO TELL A GENUINE $10 BILL.—Somebody says the genuine ten dollar bill has the figure "10" in the eagle's eye, in the centre of the bill—the 0 forming the pupil of the eye, and the 1 in the shading close by. The counterfeit has not this mark.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A book by General Lee will awaken such special interest, that we are glad to call attention to it. The UNIVERSITY PUBLISHING COMPANY of No. 4 Bond Street, New York, announce that they have now in press, and will issue in a few weeks, "Memoirs of the War," by Gen. Henry Lee, thoroughly revised and corrected by Gen. R. E. Lee who has added, also, an entirely new biography of his father, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before used. It will be a large and handsome octavo volume, illustrated by new steel portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene; beautiful steel engravings of "Marion Crossing the Pedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis," and five original maps and plans. Our readers need not be told that this is a work of great interest and value. It is the standard history of military operations at the South during the revolutionary war, and as such is a book which every reading man should possess; but its interest and value are both greatly increased by Gen. Robert E. Lee's thorough revision and correction, and by the valuable biography of his father which he has written and added to it.

We are sure that this announcement, alone, is sufficient to give the book a very great sale, but when we add that Gen. Lee is personally interested in its publication, such a sale is made certain.

As we learn that the book is to be sold by canvassing agents only, those who desire to engage in its sale should make early application to the publishers.

A Regular Habit of Body,

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of persons cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants,—such as an unpleasant breath, a swallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

JOB-PRINTING.

All kinds of Job-Printing executed at the TIMES office.

We have just received a fine assortment of the latest styles of type, and are prepared to execute at short notice any kind of printing that may be called for, in style unsurpassed by any establishment in the State, and at moderate prices.

The Directors of the W. C. & R. R. R. met in this city yesterday. The meeting was of a private nature—but we learn the only business of importance transacted was, the passing of a resolution urging the President and officers to use all power at their command to complete the road.

RE-UNION.—Mr. Albert Wilson had a re-union a few days since, at which there were forty-four of his children and grandchildren and two great grandchildren present, (and four absent) besides many of his neighbors and friends. Mr. W., is a highly esteemed and venerable citizen of Hopewell Township, (one of the very best in the county,) and must have been gratifying to him to have had so many of his descendents with him on the occasion. He sent us through Wm. P. Little, Esq., divers pieces of the rich and elegant cake which were made for the celebration, and for which, we were thankful. It is a compliment to be remembered on such occasions and we are proud to know that many in this county do think of us when they are enjoying themselves. It tells us that our efforts in behalf of what is right are appreciated and which is more valuable to us than money or office. We trust our worthy friend will live to have many such re-unions with a still larger number of his descendants around him.

NEWS INK.—We have received from the Agency of W H. Bernard, Wilmington, a sample can of Robinson's, No. 5. News Ink. Upon trial we find it to be a good quality and the price is as low as New York, with the saving of freight and the delay of ordering from a distance.—Standard.

We have also received a small can of the above named Ink, from the same gentleman, and think it fine.—Examiner.

We have been using Ink from the same house, and fully endorse what the Standard and Examiner say of it.

"SCALING" OLD DEBTS.—The Abbeville Press of Friday, speaking of the proceedings of Court, now in session there, Judge Orr, presiding, says:

"In all cases which have been brought up on 'ante-war' debts, the juries have fixed the measure of their verdicts at one-half of the principal and interest to the 1st January, 1861. And the majority of these cases, by agreement of counsel, have been referred to the Clerk, to assess the amount of principal and interest in conformity with this standard.

"In cases of Confederate debts, the rule for scaling debts, which is furnished by Act 1869 has been applied, except in cases of peculiar hardship, where evidence has been gone into as to the true value of the property.

"The rule which has been adopted by the jury will no doubt work injury in particular cases, but perhaps it is the best that could be adopted, and will promote the ends of substantial justice, salus populi, suprema lex; and as one-half—perhaps two-thirds—of the property of the debtor has been swept away, it seems but fair that he should be relieved to that extent.—'Equality is equity,' and a fair division is no robbery."

COMMODORE VANDERBILT'S BRIDE.—A correspondent of the New York Sun, writing from Saratoga on the 24th instant, says:

"The doughty Commodore looked smiling and happy, and was attired in his usual black dress, with immaculate neckcloth, and his well oiled locks surmounted by a new white "tile" of the latest style. His bride is a tall, slim, middle-aged lady, of a fair complexion, with black hair and eyes—She is a cousin twice removed of her husband, and has the reputation of being somewhat of a blue stocking. She wore a neat, gray, traveling suit, and [illegible] proud of her choice."

[illegible] girl broke her engagement [illegible] ng man for the reason that [illegible] d in his sleep. If it would [illegible] rtinent, we would like to [illegible] found it out.

PARLOR HEATERS,

COOKING STOVES,

COOKING RANGES,

HOT-AIR FURNACES, &c.

S. B. SEXTON'S CELEBRATED

PATENT BALTIMORE PARLOR HEATERS

for Anthracite or Bituminous coal, have been in successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best Fire-place Heaters manufactured and put in operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces, for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwelings and offices. Two or three Stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides, are quite ORNAMENTAL and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and cheerfulness of an open grate fire. But are more ECONOMICAL, CLEANLY, and RADIATING A LARGER AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for baking and cooking. We have Stoves to take in long wood and with large ovens, and are superior Stoves for baking. We are getting out some new patterns of Cooking Stoves, that will burn Bituminous coal, hard coal, or wood. They will have a beautiful finish, and will stand among the No. 1 Cook Stoves. Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the plates. Our Cooking Ranges are pronounced the best and cheapest in the market—Baking of all kinds can be done in our Ranges as quickly and equally as well as in a Brick oven. We will manufacture S. B. SEXTON'S new patent Hot-Air Furnaces, warranted to burn from 30 to 70 hours with once filling.

Thankful to our friends and the public for their past favors, we solicit a continuance of their patronage.
